Holiday Gift Guide

#NEXTFABMADE

NextFab's mission is to help our community make a living doing what they love - creating things. We provide access to machinery, education, membership, community, events, and professional services to support artisan professionals and craftspeople, many of whom aspire to or are already selling their works.

This holiday season, our makers' handmade products can be found in local craft markets and online stores, as the perfect gifts to warm your home, and help you check everyone off your list (including you)!
